To whom it may concern,

I am writing to recommend Aaron, who was previously the co-owner of my Minecraft guild for a number of years, for any position related to moderation. Aaron has a wealth of experience in handling complex situations with integrity and good judgement.

As the co-owner, Aaron was responsible for leading our moderation team and ensuring that our community remained welcoming and safe for all players. He always took his responsibilities seriously and went above and beyond to ensure that our members had a positive experience.

One of the things I admired most about Aaron as the co-owner was his ability to communicate effectively with everyone he interacted with, whether they were players or other staff members. He has an exceptional ability to listen to feedback, provide support, and resolve conflicts in a fair, respectful and unbiased manner.

In addition to his people skills, Aaron has a strong background in moderating online communities. He's proficient in a wide range of moderation tools and techniques, and is always open to learning new strategies and best practices.

Overall, I'm confident that Aaron would be an excellent addition to any team in need of a skilled moderator. He's dependable, conscientious, and always willing to go the extra mile to get the job done right. I highly recommend him for any position related to moderation.

Yours sincerely,

Sam Lennard
